Notice Regarding the Reorganization of the Internet Infrastructure Business

GMO Internet Group, Inc. ("the Company") hereby announces that, at the Board of Directors meeting held today, the Company has resolved to transfer the shares of 11 consolidated subsidiaries engaged in the Internet infrastructure business overseas (hereinafter referred to as the "Overseas Subsidiaries") to its consolidated subsidiary, GMO Internet Inc. (TSE Prime: 4784, hereinafter referred to as "GMO-I"), as detailed below.

As this reorganization involves the transfer of shares to the Company's consolidated subsidiary, the impact on the Company's consolidated financial results is expected to be minimal. Additionally, as this transaction does not meet the criteria for timely disclosure, certain disclosure details have been omitted. For further details, please refer to the announcement titled "Notice Regarding the Acquisition of Shares Accompanied by the Transfer of a Subsidiary and the Assignment of Claims" released today by GMO-I.

1. Reason for the Reorganization

GMO Internet Group, Inc. is transitioning to a holding company structure as of January 2025 to establish a robust framework for achieving sustainable growth. This transition is aimed at promoting independent management and Enhancing group synergies to their full potential, in line with the Group's vision of becoming a group that will continue over the next century.

GMO-I is a comprehensive Internet company engaged in the Internet infrastructure business, including domains, cloud and rental servers, and Internet connectivity, as well as the Internet Advertising & Media Business. With the Company transitioning to a holding company structure, GMO-I has taken over the infrastructure business previously operated independently by the Company. Starting in January 2025, GMO-I has launched a new organizational structure to integrate the strengths of its Internet infrastructure and Advertising & Media Business. Our Group's overseas expansion is primarily focused on the Internet Infrastructure Business, which holds the No.1 track record in Japan, with a strong emphasis on the Asian region. We operate under the unified overseas brand, "Z.com." Our overseas subsidiaries serve as the core entities driving the Internet Infrastructure Business under the "Z.com" brand, contributing to the further global expansion of our services.

From the perspective of enhancing group synergies to their full potential, improving structural efficiency, and establishing a global framework, we have decided to proceed with this reorganization. By integrating the operations of GMO-I, the core entity of the Internet Infrastructure Business, and our overseas subsidiaries, we anticipate achieving the following benefits.

・Expansion of the global customer base

・Strengthening knowledge sharing and technological collaboration between domestic and overseas Internet Infrastructure businesses

・Improving cost efficiency through the optimal allocation of management resources

Through this reorganization, we will accelerate the global expansion of the Internet Infrastructure Business with GMO-I at its core and work towards enhancing the Group's medium- to long-term corporate value.

2. Schedule

(1)	Date of resolution by the Board of Directors	March 21, 2025
(2)	Date of stock transfer agreement signing	March 21, 2025
(3)	Date of stock transfer execution	March 31, 2025 (Planned)

3. Future Outlook

As this reorganization involves the transfer of shares to the Company's consolidated subsidiary, the impact on the Company's consolidated financial results is expected to be minimal. However, if any material impact requiring disclosure is identified in the future, we will promptly make an announcement.
